VIEWS ON HONG KONG

Two leaders of the community have just voiced their views on different aspects of the future of Hong Kong-Bishop Hall and Mr. MacIntosh, Commissioner of Police. They naturally look at the Colony's problems separate standpoints, but they both had pertinent and trenchant comments to make.

Bishop reiterated his previous remarks about the necessity for British people to change their apathetic attitude towards the improveto put our type of democracy | More and better-fitted Kong. It is impossible to deny that it is useless to expect the Chinese people to believe that British democracy is better any other political ideology unless they can see its benefits for themselves.

True, we have good roads, fairly clean streets, sanitation, reasonably efficient transport, the vast majority of the population, the poorer classes, find an average price of 6,000 dinard with a palette knife. little to impress them. similar mind expect too much from Hong, Kong, but one cannot argue with him about the necessity for moral defence as well as military preparations.

The trouble is, of course that one may talk about the urgent need for spiritual and mental reform without being able to make any impression on the situation. It may be the duty of the clergy to point out our weaknesses, but to postulate a practical solution in persuasive manner is another matter. The Church might well look to itself in this context: sonorous words from the pulpit, no matter how true, are meaningless unless the listeners go out and actually do something. The uplifted feeling of well-dressed persons in the interim between the sermon, driving off in new cars, downing the preluncheon cocktail and enjoying the roast lamb and green peas tends to be short-lived. The function of the clergy may include seeing that the moved spirit is not allowed to be bogged down a few minutes later in a savour meat sauce. The Commissioner of Police looked at Hong Kong from the point of view of law and province, he is not going to sibility to alter the political guardian as his friend, as or economic scene, but to en- someone to whom he should extracted from three-pennyworth of London.

"Doing Everything To Prevent Another War WARNING TO AMERICA

Moscow, November 6. The Soviet Deputy Prime Minister, M. Georgyi Malenkov, declared here today that Russia does not want war and is doing "everything to prevent it." He was addressing the Moscow city Soviet at its traditional meeting marking the 32nd anniversary of the Soviet Revolution.

"The peace policy of the Soviet Union is the very basis of the Soviet system," M. Malenkov said.

Atom energy in the hands of the Imperialists, he said, "is the source of the production of death-dealing weapons, whereas in the hands of the Soviet people it must and will serve as a mighty weapon of unprecedented technical progress and further speedy growth of the productive forces of our country."

Contrasting the economic development of Russia and America. he said, "We can now say that our prewar level of production and economic development has not only been reached but surpassed. We have every ground for believing that the Five-Year Plan is going to be comfortably fdifilled.

"In 100 months, compared with last year, there has been 20 per -cent more production. Labour productivity is 14 per cent more than last year. This year's harvest exceeded the prewar level." In 1950 Soviet industrial production would rise to a general level 50 per cent higher than before 1940. Even now Soviet industry, considered monthly. was surpassing the production of 1940 by 50 per cent monthly, M.

Malenkov said. The problem of cattle breeding had become a main task of Party and State, he added. The production of meat, milk and other animal produce would be creased in 1950 by 50 per cent pon". over the 1948 level.

Order Of The Day To Red Services

London, November 6-Marshal of the Soviet Union, Alexander Vastievsky, in an Order of the Day broadcast tonight by Moscow Radio, called on Soviet Servicemen to improve their prowess during the forthcoming winter season of military training."

The Order marks tomorrow's anniversary of the Soviet Revolution. After alleging that American and British "Imperialists" were "openly" preparing a new war, the Minister, declared, "In the forthcoming winter season of military training the personnel of our Army, Air Force and Navy must continue to perfect their military and political training. A most important condition for the successful fulfilment of these responsible tasks is firm military discipline based on the lofty consciousness of the Bervicemen and their profound understanding of their duty."-Reuter.

Nehru Sympathies Lie With West

New York, November 6. Pandit Nehru, the Indian Premier, has clearly shown his sympathy for Britain, the United States and other Western democracies in their "cold war" against Russia to block the spreed of Communism.

This is the opinion of American officials, assessing the results of Mr. Nehru's month-long visit to the United States and Canada.

The officials realise that I while Mr. Nehru could not be expected to make any formal unpopular with certain sectors of opinion in his country, they nevertheless think the Indian leader has gone as far as he could under the circumstances to indicate where he stood.

American officials believe that Mr. Nehru is sincere in his protestations of the desire to remain realistic to know that the time have to choose sides. They feel there is no doubt where he will reported.

On the other hand, Mr. Nehru found in the U.S. an enduring picture of warm-hearted, very generous people full of goodwill to others and with firm belief in basic principles on which this great Republic was foundedprinciples of freedom, equality and democracy:

Mr. Nehru said in his address "Everywhere in the United States I have found love, freedom and the desire for peace and cocommitment, because such a operation among the people and declaration would be most a frankness of human approach which makes friendly understanding easy."--- United Press.

> > Car Output

Freight carloadings continued to point up the sad plight of the nation's railroads—down 34.5 per cent from last year. Motor car output showed the sharpest decline in any week since the strikes. Work tapered off at Chrysler plants in preparation for a full stoppage, and Ford closed down for inventory early in the week.

Soft coal production was little higher as more independents turned out more coal in response to urgent pleas from shivering householders and commercial users in widespread areas. Crude oil and electric power production was a little higher

A Manchester escapologist, Alan Alan, 24, made a third. try at staying down a six-foot hole while earth was tamped solidly over him, then attempting to get clear to the surface with his hands bound. Encased in a wooden box, he has twice been successful, but at a further demonstration at Cobham. Surrey, he nearly lost his life. Instead of the wooden box, only a thin sheet of exedboard protected him while buried. After 15 minutes, his agent got nervous and began to dig him out. Alan was brought to the surface unconscious after another eight minutes' digging. He was dosed with brandy and came around quickly. Photos show: Top (left):, Alan, hands bound, waits to be covered with earth at the outset. New York, November 6. Six weeks after the devaluation of Sterling, British goods in this market do not seem to be showing any notable spurt in consumption.

The only exception is in motor cars, one of Britain's minor dollar-earners. And the sligh rise in British car sales is taken as part of the averall hunger for cars generally, the American industry having an exceptional sales year.

Slackening

Boston, November 6. A further slackening of spot wool business was indicated this week in market comment The season in spring civilian goods is well along, and new fabric business apparently is largely confined to the government contracts in prospect on bids last week for 1,779,000 yards of air force serge.

It appears buyers of wool are not looking far ahead, according to the: "Commercial - Bulletin," which says:

"Signs are that they purchase only to eke out requirements against the mill business in hand The current cloth manufacturing season has not brought quite the tight squeeze that was forecast in wool, though wool spot sup-plies here are limited and prices America steady where urgent needs must be covered.
